PART III — NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 11-K, 20-F, 10-Q, N-SAR, or the transition report portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period. (Attach extra sheets if needed.)

Verint Systems Inc. (“Verint” or the “Company”) plans to file its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended July 31, 2007 as soon as practicable, but does not currently expect that it will be filed on or before the fifth calendar day following the required filing date as prescribed in Rule 12b-25.

Prior to Verint’s initial public offering in May 2002, Verint was a wholly-owned subsidiary of Comverse Technology, Inc. (“Comverse”) and, as a result, during that period certain Verint employees received from Comverse options to purchase Comverse common stock. Since May 2002 (other than the June 2002 repricing of stock options by Comverse), no Verint employee received compensatory awards from Comverse. As previously announced, the Board of Directors of Comverse, now the 64% stockholder of Verint, has created a special committee (the “Comverse Special Committee”) composed of outside directors, to review matters relating to Comverse’s stock option grants, including the accuracy of the stated dates of Comverse option grants and whether Comverse followed all proper corporate procedures.

Comverse has announced that the Comverse Special Committee has substantially completed its investigation of employee stock option practices and has made a preliminary determination of the effect on its previously issued financial statements. On February 23, 2007, Verint announced its preliminary determination of the amounts of non-cash stock-based compensation expense that the Company will be required to record with respect to the backdated Comverse stock options issued to the Company’s employees. For the fiscal years ended January 31, 2007, 2006, and 2005, the Company expects this charge to be approximately $0, $31,000, and $64,000, respectively, and the Company expects this charge to be less than $20 million in the aggregate for all periods. These figures exclude any tax expense or related payments, which have not yet been finalized, however, the Company has announced that it does not expect the tax implications to materially impact its liquidity or capital resources.

Comverse has also announced that its Special Committee has expanded its investigation into certain non-options related accounting matters, including possible revenue recognition errors, errors in recording of certain deferred tax assets, expense misclassification, misuse of accounting reserves, and misstatement of backlog. Following the expansion of the Comverse Special Committee investigation, the Company commenced its own internal review into certain of these accounting matters, including accounting reserves, income statement expense reclassification and revenue recognition.

Although the Comverse Special Committee has indicated that its options-related review is substantially complete, it has not yet produced its final report. In addition, the non-options related portion of the Comverse Special Committee investigation and the Company’s own non-options related internal review are still on-going and there can be no assurance that the results of these investigations will not have a material and adverse impact on Verint’s financial results.

Note: Certain statements and information in this Form 12b-25 that involve expectations, plans, intentions or strategies regarding the future are “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. They are often identified by words such as “will”, “anticipates”, “expects”, “intends”, “plans”, “believes”, “estimates” and similar expressions and statements about present trends and conditions that may extend into the future. These statements are not facts and are based upon information available to the Company as of the date of this release. The Company assumes no obligation to revise or update any such forward-looking statement except as otherwise required by law. Forward-looking statements believed true when made may ultimately prove to be incorrect. These statements are not guarantees of future performance and are subject to risks, uncertainties and other factors, some of which are beyond our control and may cause actual results to differ materially from our current expectations. Some of the factors that could cause actual future results or conditions to differ materially from current expectations include the impact on Verint’s financial results of the Comverse Special Committee’s review of matters relating to grants of Comverse stock options and other non-options related accounting matters; the impact on Verint’s financial results arising from Verint’s internal review of certain accounting matters; the impact of governmental inquiries arising out of or related to option grants and practices and/or other accounting areas under investigation by Comverse and Verint and the risk of regulatory action or private litigation relating to the same; the effect of Verint’s failure to timely file all required reports under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934; Verint’s ability to have its common stock relisted on The NASDAQ Global Market; customer and partner concern relating to the foregoing; risk that Verint’s recent merger with Witness Systems disrupts current plans and operations and the potential difficulties in employee retention and customer satisfaction as a result of the merger; the ability to recognize the expected benefits of the merger; the impact of the substantial indebtedness incurred to finance the consummation of the merger and challenges in maintaining covenant compliance; risks relating to current and potential future litigation or regulatory inquiries or actions inherited in connection with the merger, including with respect to Witness option grants and alleged patent infringement; introducing quality products on a timely basis that satisfy customer requirements and achieve market acceptance; lengthy and variable revenue cycles create difficulty in forecasting the timing of revenue; integrating the business and personnel of Verint’s other acquisitions, including implementation of adequate internal controls; risks associated with significant foreign operations, including fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates; aggressive competition in all of Verint’s markets, which creates pricing pressure; managing our expansion in the Asia Pacific region; risks that Verint’s intellectual property rights may not be adequate to protect its business or that others may claim that Verint or its subsidiaries infringe upon their intellectual property rights; risks associated with Verint’s ability to retain existing personnel and recruit and retain qualified personnel in all geographies in which Verint operates; decline in information technology spending; changes in the demand for Verint’s products; challenges in increasing gross margins; risks associated with changes in the competitive or regulatory environment in which Verint operates; dependence on government contracts; expected increase in Verint’s effective tax rate; risk that Verint improperly handles sensitive or confidential information or risk of misperception of such mishandling; inability to maintain relationships with value added resellers and systems integrators; difficulty of improving Verint’s infrastructure to support growth; risks associated with Comverse Technology, Inc. controlling Verint’s business and affairs; and other risks described in filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including our Current Report on Form 8-K filed September 10, 2007. All documents are available through the SEC’s Electronic Data Gathering Analysis and Retrieval system (EDGAR) at www.sec.gov or from Verint’s website at www.verint.com.

3. Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations for the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof? Yes No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

On September 10, 2007, Verint issued a press release announcing certain preliminary unaudited financial results. The Company announced record revenue of $137,032,000 for the second quarter of fiscal 2007 ended July 31, 2007 on a basis not in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”), a 49% increase compared with GAAP revenue of $92,258,000 for the second quarter of fiscal 2006. Revenues on a GAAP basis for the second quarter of fiscal 2007 were a record $129,563,000, a 40% increase compared with GAAP revenue of $92,258,000 for the second quarter of fiscal 2006. Verint also announced net loss attributable to common shareholders on a GAAP basis was $44,772,000 for the second quarter of fiscal 2007 ($1.39 per share). Net income available to common shareholders on a non-GAAP basis was $2,604,000 for the second quarter of fiscal 2007 ($0.08 per diluted share). Verint also announced gross profit on a GAAP basis of $72,923,000 and loss from operations on a GAAP basis of $35,411,000 for the second quarter of fiscal 2007. Gross profit on a non-GAAP basis was $87,623,000 and income from operations on a non-GAAP basis was $14,623,000 for the second quarter of fiscal 2007. As noted in Verint’s Current Report on Form 8-K filed September 10, 2007, these figures are expected to change, possibly materially, based on the final results of the Comverse Special Committee investigation or Verint’s internal review, the assessment of related tax impacts, and the completion of the restatement (and related audits) of Verint’s historical financial statements resulting from these investigations.

Due to the uncertainty arising out of the Company's own non-options related internal investigation and the non-options related portion of the Comverse Special Committee's investigation, except as described above, the Company at this time cannot provide a reasonable estimate and comparison of the results of its operations for the fiscal quarter ended July 31, 2007 compared to the fiscal quarter ended July 31, 2006.
